Hi Lina,

We became connected to Lina via one of those synchronistic events that happen in life. I was personally at a very difficult point in my life where I was struggling with a lot of physical pain and had visited many therapists, however, things did not seem to be getting better.

My first experience with Lina instantly demonstrated to me that she has the amazing ability to know when an individual is in need of immediate help.

The urgency with which she consulted with me was a testament to her commitment to her clients.

*To describe the treatment we received is difficult, given that we all have different needs and Lina is very adaptable.

*However, quite simply, Lina has the amazing ability to connect to a higher power enabling the clearing of all types of blockages, enabling an individual to develop to their highest potential.

What a wonderful gift.

Lina treated myself, my son and my husband.

She is a very compassionate person with a warm and wonderful spirit.

Before I met Lina I was self-conscious about me and my body the main reason I went to Lina is that I was able to see what she was able to do for my mother and sister and I really wanted to lose my man boobs and stomach.

After my first appointment with Lina I felt my man boobs shrinking and reshaping this kept happening every lesson with Lina. About six appointments later I am almost flat chested and I am losing my stomach and stretch marks.

Now I am seeing her every three weeks or so.

Hi Lina

Lina came with me and my partner as a couple and individually through a very challenging period in our relationship.

Lina has an ability to see through the Layers of denial cover up and self-sabotage to the true state of ones being on a Physical, Emotional and Spiritual level.

Lina made herself available to us outside of our appointments over the phone which was very beneficial during periods of intense frustration, anger, confusion and generally when we were not coping.

Thank You Lina for coming with us into this difficult period and always shedding the light of truth and reality on our situations and states of being so we could see what matters most. Love and support for one another.

Your Testimony

Gold Coast QLD

I find it difficult to explain how dark a place I was in.

I had so very much to be happy for - my relationship with a very special person who I was looking forward to growing old with - someone who lit 6 candles in my life.

Children who I adore and seem to excel at being the finest individuals anyone could meet.

A happy home full of laughter and joy where I feel comfort and at ease and where friends love to frequent.

A job that people dream about - a patented renewable energy technology about to go viral around the world and earn millions.

So why the deep melancholy?

Why did I feel like I was standing on the edge of an abyss so ungrateful to the Great Creator for all that I had been blessed with?

The deep pain of having so much while having the sense that there was no colour or joy in my life - everything was grey.

Try as I may a dark cloud hung over me like some morbid cartoon - the sort of dark cloud that only those who have experienced can relate to.

It's called depression - and for me came about after the very special person in my life had miscarried three consecutive times in as many years.

It didn't hit all at once but crept insidiously like a giant hand slowly squeezing the life from my heart.

It was a real struggle - a spiritual battle for my soul was raging and my guard was down.

I needed to fight and break the hold but try as I may it seemed beyond my ability.

I could battle and get the upper hand for a time but then began the slow strangling creep.

I needed help from a spiritual doctor but did not know it - indeed did such a profession exist???.

Someone blessed with discernment suggested I needed to see someone they knew who could help.

It was then that I found myself sitting in the reception of a "new age" office with scented oils and relaxing music wondering what on earth I was doing in a place like this - I had always avoid these like the plague.

With thoughts of wanting to get up and run away spinning in my head I tried to keep a calm exterior that belied the turmoil and heartache I felt deep inside.

The moments ticked by ever so slowly as I waited my turn - slowly and painfully I waited.

Finally a door opened and I was introduced to Lina.

Unremarkable at first despite the stunning beauty - but then I slowly became aware of a hidden spiritual power, dynamic and strong with healing at its core.

Something remarkable was happening and I was almost powerless to intervene as I was swept along on the most memorable ride one could ever imagine.

Was I really hallucinating - was it my imagination - was I really seeing "things" - was I really experiencing physical sensations and a renewed spiritual awareness ???

All of the above was the answer.

For close to an hour I was privileged to witness one of the greatest gifts of prophesy I have ever witnessed and I can say without guile or boasting I have witnessed a few.

Coming from a deeply spiritually aware background what I was witnessing was nothing short of staggering.

I was introduced to a form of spiritual healing I had never known or experienced before.

I was given messages in prophesy about things that I alone and God knew - deep secrets from the recesses of my heart and thoughts and secrets from the wee small hours of the night when sleep was far away.

Slowly at first, then with increasing strength I felt as if I had a dump truck removed from my chest.

The weight that I had been dragging around was slowly lifted as I listened in awe of the marvellous things I had yet to accomplish.

My life was NOT a waste - it was not over or about to end in darkness and despair - I was thrilled to hear I was going to burn with a brilliance that was to make my name a household word.

Could all that I was hearing be true???

I had always believed it was but had somehow allowed negativity, depression and despair to steal my love and enjoyment in life.

The chains I had forged with my own hands and negative thoughts fell away.

The time went by in a blur - I left and walked out and down the street dazzled at my long lost strength renewed within me - my armour shone and my shield glistened my sword hanging heavy ready at my side.

To my surprise and the amazement of a couple with a young boy about 5 years of age waiting on a bus stop; the boy suddenly jumped up and began to follow me like I was some kind of modern day pied piper.

Though I knew the young child was following behind I at first kept walking hoping his parents would intervene and call him back as I was now some distance from the bus stop.

But for some strange reason they were frozen as if in stone.

Finally I turned and offered a wave of my hand as if giving a blessing and the spell was broken, the young child stopped for a moment looked blank then ran back to his parents who were staring in disbelief at what had just happened.

Over the next few days and weeks this happened often as I handed out blessings in a manner to which I had also received - being warmed with an inner glow and the blessing of the gift of giving.

My life is still a challenge but not a burden.

My spirit has been healed of the malaise that was slowly killing my body.

I look forward to the future with a renewed vision and excitement - and all because I stayed and sat in that waiting room.

I went back a number of times to visit Lina who now stays in touch on a regular basis - not out of duty, but because she has been gifted with an unusual and genuine love for mankind.

It's hard to put into words what to say when describing Lina or why one should visit her - love would be one thing that comes to mind - a marvellous gift of healing which she pours out without measure could be another.

But I think the thing that stands out to me is the way she touched my spirit when I needed help the most - something that will remain with me forever.

Lina has showed me what I always knew but had forgotten - that I was special - no one in the universe was like me and there is certainly no one in any universe anywhere like the healing angel called Lina.
